WELCOME IN LUCENEC – SLOVAKIA

An aerial photograph of a small airport in Lucenec, Slovakia. A paved runway with white dashed lines and the number '13' at its end stretches from the bottom left towards the center. To the right of the runway, there is a cluster of airport buildings, including a hangar and several smaller structures. The surrounding landscape is a mix of green fields and brown agricultural land. In the far background, rolling hills and mountains are visible under a clear sky.

The Championships are organized by experienced peoples of the with a full use of their on site facilities. These facilities are in a long time use for similar purpose already.

Hangar, gymnasium, swimming pool and the building offer a lot of shaded area and rooms.

The background image shows a rustic wooden interior, likely a hall or restaurant. It features wooden beams on the ceiling, wooden walls, and a tiled floor. There are several wooden tables and chairs, some with patterned cushions. A large, ornate chandelier hangs from the ceiling. In the center, there is a long, patterned rug. To the left, there is a wooden bench and a television set. To the right, there is a wooden counter or bar. The overall atmosphere is warm and traditional.
